DANIEL GLANZ

THE NATIONAL SCULPTORS' GUILD

PROFESSIONAL PROFILE:

I began my career in illustration and fine art photography with the Smithsonian Tropical Research Institute after attending Colorado State University and Minneapolis College of Art and Design. My art is known for its energy, movement and technical mastery with a powerful yet elegant quality, drawn from my classical approach to sculpture. I travel extensively to destinations such as Africa, the Galapagos Islands and the Antarctic, and draw on these experiences in creating my art. My work, which is created in my Loveland studio, ranges in size from table-top to monumental. The editions and commissions grace many private collections and public art programs
